Holiday from hell

SAFE: The crash scene and below, Beryl Turvey and granddaughter Lizzie Gibbons

BY NICK SMITH
nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LUTON family watched in horror as the bus in front of them was reduced to a wreckage by a fatal crash that killed a Briton.

Beryl Turvey and 17-year-old granddaughter, Lizzie Gibbons, say they could 'easily' have been on board the bus, which was transporting holiday makers as they stopped off in Dominica during a cruise of the Caribbean. Ron Turvey, of Stanmore Crescent, Luton, said wife Beryl and granddaughter Lizzie, messaged him after witnessing the horror smash on Wednesday.

They had been enjoying their luxury holiday aboard the P&O cruise ship Azura when the crash took place, killing one and injuring nine of the 12 passengers on board.

Beryl and Lizzie were stuck behind the accident on a 'twisty hill', before they were told they would have to 'turn around and go back' to the ship.

Later, they text Mr Turvey: "Just heard accident involved passengers from ship and one was killed. We could easily have been on that coach - how scary is that?"

A spokesman for P&O Cruises confirmed the incident and said nine guests from the ship were injured, with one confirmed dead.

Countdown to awards night 2016!

LUTON on Sunday's first ever business awards is just four days away.

The movers and shakers of the business community will gather for the ceremony at Bedford Corn Exchange on Thursday.

With awards from Town Centre Business of the Year to Family Business of the Year and a special Lifetime Achievement Award, the night will celebrate the fantastic work of so many local people.

Editor of LoS, Sarah Cox, said: "We have been astounded by the reaction to the launch of our first awards, with more than 200 entries received from across the county. The standard has been exceptionally high - we are in for a great evening.

"Join us live on the night as we reveal the winners for 2016 by following @lutononsunday or #BedsBizAwards."

Donna Minnett, area manager from headline sponsor Barclays, said: "Barclays are delighted to headline sponsor the first Bedfordshire Business Awards.

"It's a time to celebrate the success of the businesses in this region. Each business reflects the diversity of the economy and we look forward to the awards evening and celebrating with key leaders from across Bedfordshire."

Look out for next week's paper for our Bedfordshire Business Awards special. To get hold of the last remaining tickets, call Pamela on 01234 304403.

Editor's Letter

I DIDN'T stay up to watch the American election.

Listening to pundits speculate over how unlikely Trump's victory would be and how monumental the impact was reminiscent of a night in June I would rather forget.

A tweet broke the news to me less than gently at 6.30am on Wednesday morning.

Waking up again to surreal and uncertain times

What does Trump's victory mean? That having a bad reputation in politics is almost as good – if not better – than having a good one. That the people who say they voted because their views aren't heard are probably right. But that this is not necessarily a mandate upon which to govern the most powerful country in the world.

Only time will tell whether Donald J Trump can make their American dreams come true.

The businessman had a clear message for the people of America who felt left behind by their economic system – and they responded to it. There is no denying that Trump has been entertaining at times over the past few months: a terrifying blond monstrosity of a man; a cartoon character.

But when no amount of 'pussy-grabbing', bigotry and racist rhetoric can dissuade voters it tells us something very powerful.

These are certainly surreal and uncertain times we live in. The challenge now – for European leaders, and for America's next commander in chief – is to remember that divisive rhetoric and campaigning might work in elections, but it can have devastating consequences back in the real world.

Man killed by officers after assault call-out

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAN was shot dead by police earlier this week after the force was called to reports of a woman being assaulted.

The 24-year-old died after being shot by a firearms officer in Tracey Court on Wednesday afternoon and Bedfordshire Police has now referred the incident to the Independent Police Complaints Commission (IPCC).

Police were called at approximately 1.30pm to reports of a woman being assaulted at the Tracey Court property, which is just off Hibbert Road.

After being treated at the scene the man was taken to hospital but

SHOOTING: The scene outside Tracey Court after a man was shot by police was pronounced dead at 2.50pm.

The next of kin have been informed.

Man found dead in bin named

A MAN who was found dead in a bin as part of a double murder probe has been named as Adim Baba.

Adim, 49, was found outside a flat in Essex Court on October 16, just six days after Tabussum Winning, 34, was found hanging at the same flats. A man has been released on bail as police investigate.

An inquest was opened into their deaths in Amptill on Wednesday, where the court heard Adim died from a 'blunt trauma' to the head.

Wally lays down claim as oldest poppy seller

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

A FORMER employee at the old Vauxhall works could be Britain's oldest poppy seller – at the grand old age of 101.

Walter 'Wally' Randall has been hailed as the country's oldest fundraiser for the Royal British Legion, although he admits he's not 100 per cent sure himself.

Wally, born in the village of Wing, Buckinghamshire, on September 8, 1915, has been selling poppies for the Royal British Legion in Leighton Buzzard since the early 1950s.

He said: "I'm going to keep on selling poppies while I've still got the energy to do it."

"I don't know whether I'm the oldest poppy seller or not – it all came about when someone put me on Facebook and said, 'no, here's the oldest one.'"

"My favourite thing about it is people's generosity – when someone puts money in but says 'I've already got a poppy'. It's very gratifying."

Wally worked for more than 40 years for Vauxhall in Luton, performing roles including material handler and production setter, retiring aged 64.

Before that, his army career had taken him to places such as Italy and Egypt.

Wally, who now lives in Leighton Buzzard, is still 'as fit as a fiddle' according to son Nicholas, 69.

He continues to have an active role in community life, delivering local magazines and being involved with the masons.

Nicholas said: "We're all so proud of him. He's on no medication at all, I'm on more than him!"

Vote for the People's Choice

HAVE you voted for your People's Choice winner yet?

Voting is now open for readers of Luton on Sunday to pick their best of Luton's Best, ready for the glittering awards ceremony next month.

Luton's Best Awards, run by Love Luton and its team of supporting businesses, takes place at Luton Hoo on December 2.

The shortlist is now on our website luton-dunstable.co.uk, with just one finalist set to be named your People's Choice.

Voting opened last weekend and will close on Thursday, December 1. Good luck to all finalists!

Court serves a coincidence

A WOMAN'S compensation bid after allegedly dodgy knee surgery was dramatically delayed – after it emerged the judge's wife plays tennis with the wife of a key witness.

The wheelchair-bound lady had attended the High Court for the first day in her case against Luton and Dunstable NHS on Monday.

But she was left in tears after Judge Neil Bidder QC recused himself from the case – which may now not be heard until next year.

He said it was down to an 'extraordinary coincidence', telling the female claimant: "I am terribly sorry, it's just terribly unlucky."

FINALLY a way to get rid of DISComfort

Advertisement Feature

Are you suffering from back pain, arm or leg pain, numbness, tingling, or weakness in your arms or legs? Then it's likely you're suffering from DISComfort. That's when one of your spinal discs is bulging or herniated and causing these, sometimes severe, symptoms because of the effect the disc is having on your nerve system.

You may have already had this diagnosed on an MRI and thought that there is little that can be done about it and that's a major problem: bad information, because in the right hands a lot can be done for you.

To end the misery caused by bad spinal discs you must have the right information. Pay close attention because I'm going to destroy some important myths and give you the facts.

MYTH: DISC problems will just "go away" with some rest.

FACT: If you are dealing with back pain, buttock pain or leg pain, then you must seek help from a DISC specialist immediately. Left untreated, DISC problems can lead to permanent nerve damage - and lifelong pain.

MYTH: Pain is the only problem associated with DISC problems.

FACT: In severe cases, DISC problems can lead to the inability to control your bowels, bladder and sexual potency - leading to embarrassing situations.

MYTH: You must take pain medications to deal with bad DISCs.

FACT: Drugs like muscle relaxants, pain killers, narcotics, antidepressants, and anti-seizure medications have serious potential side-effects and do not cure damaged spinal DISCs.

MYTH: "I must have done something wrong to damage my DISC."

FACT: Physical work or simply sitting at a desk for long periods can lead to weakened DISCs. Accidents and trauma can also be the culprits. Pregnancy can cause damage. DISC damage can happen to anyone - including super-fit celebrities like Tiger Woods, Sylvester Stallone, and British Olympic medalist Ian Wynne.

MYTH: Stop exercising and get several weeks of bed rest to let the DISC recover...

FACT: Staying active can help to relieve DISC pain and prevent the pain getting worse. Staying inactive in bed could be the worst advice - based on a recent study in the Netherlands.

MYTH: DISC bulges or herniations require surgery.

FACT: NO! There's been a huge breakthrough in the treatment of DISC problems. It's a new procedure called Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care. The excellent results from this treatment have been published in major medical journals. Success rates are up to 90%.

MYTH: "There's nothing anyone can really do. I'm just stuck with this for the rest of my life."

FACT: With the correct treatment from a healthcare professional who specialises in DISC problems, you can find relief from the core cause - and the symptoms.

MYTH: Getting DISC problems properly diagnosed is expensive.

FACT: Not true. The Atlas Wellness Centre in Bedfordshire is currently offering an initial consultation with one of their specialists for Just £53.

Peter Olsson
Spinal DISC Expert
in Bedford.

Peter Olsson is one of the UK's leading spinal care experts. Peter (the clinical leader at Atlas Wellness Centre) and his team of fully-trained spinal care specialists have helped over 4,026 patients find relief from agonising DISC problems. He's one of the first professionals in the UK to use Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

This procedure does not require a hospital stay and in most cases you'll be able to continue with your normal daily activities with little interruption. The focus is on finding - and correcting - the original cause of the damaged DISC.

According to Olsson, "We use a combination of ultra-advanced technology, not found elsewhere in the region, for precisely diagnosing the cause of your damaged DISC. This means superior long-term results for most people."

Almost Immediate Relief From Pain...

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe, and easy, most patients report an almost immediately relief from their back pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge wrote, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg... my wife insisted I see Peter Olsson. I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

Take the Next Step - END the Suffering... Initial Consultation Just £53

The first step is to secure a thorough examination with one of the specialists at Atlas Wellness Centre.

Call 01234 340 317 to schedule your appointment. Mention this article (CODE: LOSS3DiSM4h) and Atlas will happily reduce their usual consultation fee of £245 to just £53!

Only 100 reader consultations are available at this exclusively discounted rate.

Call them now and get a full and thorough examination to pinpoint the cause of your problem for just £53. The normal cost of such an exam is £245 so you will save £192!

Call them now on 01234 340 317 and cut out or tear off this valuable article and take it to your appointment. You'll be on your way to safe, lasting relief!

You can even call on the weekend and leave a message on their answering machine to secure your spot and they promise to return all calls. During the week staff can be very busy helping patients so if they don't pick up straight away, do leave a message.

Call 01234 340 317 NOW. If it's the weekend or they're away from the phone - the specialists at Atlas promise they will get back to you. So call now on 01234 340 317 and quote this special discount code: LOSS3DiSM4h.

Two cats poisoned

A CAT owner has been left devastated after his two cats had to be put to sleep within a week of each other after being poisoned.

Six-month-old Luther came home on October 29, was sick and continued to decline. Sadly after trying to save Luther the decision was made by a vet to euthanise him.

Due to his symptoms the vets concluded he had been poisoned, most likely with anti-freeze.

The heartbreak for Luther's family was compounded when last Saturday Luther's sister Bella came home with the same symptoms and also had to be euthanised. The same vet concluded she was also most likely poisoned.

Owner Tony O'Conner said: "To have lost two cats in a week has been devastating. We want to urge people to be careful about where they are storing items such as anti-freeze."

The RSPCA is investigating.

Resignation is deemed sad loss

BY JENNA HUTBER
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A CORONER praised as 'one of the best' has handed in his notice.

Tom Osborne, who was appointed senior coroner for Bedfordshire in 2013, has stepped down from his role after overseeing dozens of high profile inquests such as the 'Tory Tatler' case.

Vicki Seabrook, managing director at clinical negligence law firm Scrivenger Seabrook Solicitors said:

"It is a sad loss. He was one of the best. I always said I would be happy to have any inquest heard by him as even if you did not get the result you wanted he would leave no stone unturned. He forced the hospital into transparency when it came to uncomfortable cases."

Mr Osborne worked on the other side of the court as a solicitor specialising in medical negligence cases for 20 years before becoming a coroner.

A spokesman for Central Bedfordshire Council said: "We can confirm that the Senior Coroner for Bedfordshire and Luton area has submitted a letter of resignation."

"To ensure continuity of service, Central Bedfordshire Council has begun the process of appointing a new Senior Coroner to fill the post when it becomes vacant at the end of January 2017.

"We'd like to take this opportunity to thank Mr Tom Osborne for his valued work and commitment to public service and the people of Bedfordshire and Luton."

A coroner investigates deaths which are sudden, violent or have unknown cause and decides whether a post mortem is necessary.

STAGE IS SET: Steve Elliott, the owner of Unity Nightclub

BY STEPHEN PENN
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

A NIGHTCLUB which has sat empty for six years will be getting a new lease of life and a complete overhaul by a former employee.

Unity Nightclub, which was formerly After Dark, based in The Quadrant, Dunstable, will be much more than just a place to dance the night away once Steve Elliott is finished.

Steve, 24, has invested in his old workplace to bring the club back from the dead.

He told LoS: "Lots of people have memories, whether it be from when it was Tiffanys in the 70s to when I worked here when it was After Dark."

"It has always been a popular spot in Dunstable, and when I started to look at opening my own club it felt like fate to do it here."

The club will take on an almost industrial look, with metallic features and trendy décor, complete with a huge dancefloor.

But Steve has bigger plans, to open not just as a night-time party venue but to get the community in.

He said: "I want this to be somewhere that everyone can have fun, whether it be under 18 discos and even tea parties for the oldies."

And though this revamp will be a six figure sum to overhaul, Steve is excited to open later this month.

He said: "This place has such a close place in my heart I want it to be somewhere really special."

Hero honoured after saving man from fire

BY KATY HALLAM
editor@lsnmedia.co.uk

AN OFF-DUTY fireman risked his life to free a driver trapped inside a blazing car that had collided with a lorry carrying gas cylinders in a 100mph crash.

Martyn Brown, a roofer and part-time firefighter from Toddington, was driving along the A507 to Ampthill from Shefford in September when he witnessed the smash.

The car was already on fire and filling with smoke as Martyn, 33, stepped in to save the man, who was drifting in and out of consciousness after hitting his head so hard in the impact it broke the windscreen.

He kicked open the door, crawled inside the wreckage and took a split-second decision to pull him to safety before the car was fully engulfed by the flames.

The dad-of-two said: "I could see the poor chap's head in the driver's side and thought he could die a really horrible death.

"He looked like he was out cold. But due to the fire now engulfing the lorry and the LPG cylinders, I took the decision to complete rapid extraction of the casualty trapped within the vehicle."

His quick-thinking led to Martyn being awarded the Tom Smylie Memorial Trophy at Bedfordshire Fire and Rescue Service's annual awards last month. Martyn added: "I didn't think, just acted. It was the right thing to do. Everything I did is down to my training. Every firefighter does this; I was off-duty but we all have a duty to the public we serve."

People urged to test their smoke alarms

FIRE minister Brandon Lewis launched this year's Fire Kills campaign on Monday where he highlighted the importance of having and testing smoke alarms.

The minister was welcomed to Luton Fire Station by Bedfordshire

Fire and Rescue Service's chief fire officer Paul Fuller.

He also met Kelly Gilbert who was recently saved from a fire in her Pottton home with her young baby after being alerted to the blaze by a smoke alarm.

"There were 229 fire related deaths in the home last year," Mr Lewis said. "The Fire Kills campaign hopes that by encouraging everyone to test their smoke alarms at least once a month more deaths can be prevented."

Exempt and Fee Paying Patients Welcome

The NHS tells us how we must charge you for NHS dental services and the amount you pay depends on the treatments you need. However, some people are exempt from the charges:

- Patients under the age of 18
- Patients who are 18 but still in full-time education
- Expectant mothers
- Nursing mothers
- Others receiving various low income benefits

The amount you pay for dental treatments is capped. Treatments fall into three bands and are shown below:

Band 1	Dental check-up (Examination), simple scaling, X-ray	£19.70
Band 2	Fillings, extractions and Band 1 treatments	£53.90
Band 3	Crowns and dentures and Band 1 and Band 2 treatments	£233.70

(Visit our websites for more information about NHS charges.)

It was most recently the After Dark club, and used to be known as Ritzy's and Jumpin' Jacks.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK: Dawood Masood

Standing against terror

TODAY marks one year since 137 people were killed by ISIS terrorists in the French capital, Paris.

Last weekend, Dawood Masood joined a group to travel to Paris and Normandy to express solidarity with those affected by terrorism.

I was invited to visit France a week ahead of the first year commemoration of the Paris attacks.

I was joined by Muslim and Anglican leaders from across the U.K.

The main objective of was to show our solidarity with the people of France, who were brutally murdered because of the toxic ideology of extremists, who seek to divide our diverse and peaceful communities.

The interfaith visit to France included Mass in a Normandy church, where an elderly Catholic priest, Father Jacques Hamel was brutally murdered last July.

I reassured the community in this time of sadness and concluded the meeting by saying: "We share your pain and are committed to stand together against such evil."

"We are all appalled to hear that these events happened inside a place of worship, where people gather to worship God and share his message of love and peace and this adds a greater element of barbarity to what took place that day."

It was positive to hear that the response to this tragic murder was love, colleagues emphasised that the resilience of the community was due to relationships built over years with other faith communities.

It was reassuring to see that the Muslim-Christian relationship was so strong, that the Christian community donated a piece of land to the Muslim community for 1 Euro, so they could build a place of worship.

This demonstrated the importance of investing in local relationships with other communities.

The interfaith visit also included a visit to Bataclan theatre, where 89 innocent victims of terrorism were killed.

We laid flowers and shared our message of peace with those who were brutally murdered.

Those responsible claimed to represent Islam; we openly condemned their actions and said these killers do not represent my faith or me.

We openly condemned their actions and denounced their so called state.

We were invited to the Grand Mosque of Paris, where we spoke with the Director of Theology regarding the rise of Islamophobia in France.

We discussed how these terrorist attacks have had detrimental effects such as alienation, discrimination and hate towards Muslims.

We concluded the meeting by sending a strong message to extremists and those who have hatred towards our peaceful communities.

I want to conclude my journey by saying that we must thrive to bring our communities together as we are all human regardless of our race, religion, ethnicity, gender or disability.

We have more in common than those who seek to divide our diverse and peaceful communities.

Fine drivers on phone

(Will we ever learn? 6.11.16) Yes, I see this happening most days. You'd think the government would do more to stop it.

I'd issue huge 'on the spot' fines. At least £1,000. Lorry drivers should pay double that.

If the driver couldn't pay immediately take away his/her vehicle. If they are driving a company vehicle that's tough!

Maybe then these people would feel the need to talk, text, send e-mails, etc less? And the revenue created will help.

Shops add to traffic woes

The Bury Park community still can't move on from the tragic accident of the little girl who died after being hit by a bus. At first they appeared to blame the bus driver. Then they engaged an 'expert' who tried unsuccessfully to find fault with the road layout. Now, I hear, they are seeking to have buses re-routed. But they are still looking the wrong way for the solution to their problem.

The truth is that the problem of traffic versus people in Bury Park is a largely self-inflicted one.

As someone who lived in the town before the arrival of the Asian community may I offer my analysis of the situation so that Bury Park can return to being the very safe and pleasant shopping area it once was?

This shopping centre was once blessed with very wide pavements made up of public footpaths and wide forecourts in front of the shops. These forecourts allowed people to browse shop windows without impeding the public footpaths.

CAUGHT: One of several motorists who were snapped on their mobile while behind the wheel on the M1

However, when the new owners realised that the forecourts were part of their premises they adopted the practice, which is widespread in many eastern countries I have visited: that of displaying their wares on every available square inch of their property especially including the forecourts.

This, of course, now means that in order to 'browse', shoppers cannot avoid blocking the footpath. So people often have to step onto the road to get by. This is made even worse by shop owners putting their empty boxes on the edge of the footpath for collection.

So the solution could not be more simple: the shopkeepers should adopt the original (intended) practice of conducting their business inside their shops rather than on the forecourts in front of them.

Greedy mitts on the EU

I'm getting a bit fed up with these people on the TV saying, we only voted Brexit because we didn't know what we were voting for. What an arrogant statement to make. Oh forgive them, they know not what they are doing. I've heard that said somewhere.

I voted Brexit because the likes of Gina Miller thinks that just because she's got money, she's got power, over the people, the government, the world.

Is it a coincidence that on November 5, Guy Fawkes tried to blow up parliament with gunpowder. She is more clever than that. She uses the legal system to bring down the government.

Parliament gave us the vote. We voted Brexit. Plain and simple. The EU started off with the best intentions. Then the rich business types took it over. They got their greedy little mitts on it, and milked it for all it was worth.

They are on to a good thing, and don't want to let the cash cow go.

DELAYED: A decision on the major Napier Gateway development has been deferred

Napier housing plan stalls after complaint

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MAJOR development has been delayed after residents complained it would add to 'ever increasing' traffic problems.

Members of Luton Borough Council's development control committee had been recommended to approve planning permission for the Napier Gateway site - a development consisting of 685 flats, a 200-room hotel, retail and leisure outlets and a medical centre - at a meeting on Wednesday night.

But after hearing from neighbouring residents they chose to defer their decision until members could visit Ketton Close to see the impact of the proposed development on neighbours.

Imelda Sells, who lives in Ketton Close, said of the proposals for the former Vauxhall site: "The development is not in keeping with Luton and would actually be an annex in the town. The development will only add to ever increasing problems with traffic and pollution."

Mrs Sells asked the committee to make the visit to see how a 22-storey tower block would affect residents first hand.

A date has not yet been scheduled for the visit.

Jumping to front of housing queue

BY JAMES AVERILL
editor@lsmmedia.co.uk

RESIDENTS who have lived in Luton for five years or more look set to be given a jump to the front of the queue for social housing.

Luton Borough Council is trying to stem the flow of people from London and surrounding towns who are arriving and getting housing in the town, and instead give priority to its own residents.

More than 11,500 applicants are on the housing waiting list, far outstripping supply.

According to Councillor Tom Shaw, cabinet member for housing, landlords in Luton are giving priority to people from the capital.

This is because they can get a better deal through the Local Housing Allowance (LHA) - the amount of benefit paid towards rent, which is a higher amount for London than it is Luton.

The policy change, which should be approved by the council's executive at a meeting tomorrow, will give priority to residents who have lived in the town for a continuous period of five years. That's two more than the current three-year threshold which was implemented in September 2013.

Councillor Shaw said: "The last six months in particular it's been getting worse and worse, we have to take some action to stop it."

"We can't accept thousands of people from outside the town. We need to give Luton people a fairer deal."

RECRUITS: The 30 new constables joining the force

30 new specials recruited by cops

BEDFORDSHIRE'S Special Constabulary has welcomed 30 new volunteer police officers who will soon be on duty in the county.

The recruits will have another two years of on the job tuition and support they are independent. Special Constabulary chief officer Wayne Humberstone said: "I know they will do a fantastic job throughout their journey with the force."

Advertorial

Join our ground-breaking services and give your career a health boost

A fantastic opportunity to give your career a health boost with Luton's leading health and social care NHS providers is on offer at our services-wide Job Fair.

We are bringing together the borough's top health and social care organisations to showcase exciting roles in some of the most dynamic service providers in the borough. If you're looking for a challenging and rewarding career in children's or adults' services come and find out more.

Luton Children's and Adults' Community Health Services – part of Cambridgeshire Community Services NHS Trust – are hosting the Job Fair on Thursday, November 24. We are joining forces with our partners, Luton Borough Council and Virgin Care, the East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust Luton Mental Health and Wellbeing Service run by East London NHS Foundation Trust Luton Mental Health and Wellbeing Service run by East London NHS Foundation Trust and the Luton and Dunstable Hospital to offer a wide range of jobs across the services at this event. These opportunities give you the chance to work with first-rate staff across the borough to deliver the best outcomes for patients.

Below are just some of the jobs for which we are recruiting.

CCS: health visitors, district nurses, community nurses, children's community nurses, health care assistants – we have bank posts for all the above and sexual health services in Bedfordshire.

Luton Borough Council: senior and specialist roles across adult social care and children's services.

East of England Ambulance Service NHS Trust: intermediate ambulance practitioners, associate ambulance practitioners and paramedics.

Anita Pisani, Cambridgeshire Community Services NHS Trust, Deputy Chief Executive said: "We know our staff make a real difference to the diverse communities we serve, so if you are ambitious and relish the opportunity to work in a high performing environment, then you're exactly the person we're looking for."

"With our health and social care partners, we value multi-disciplinary, integrated working and are developing new and ground-breaking solutions to providing holistic care as close to home as possible. We're second to none in ensuring our staff are valued, engaged and receive all the training and development they need to provide high quality care."

"So if you think you have what it takes to be part of our team – come and meet us at our Job Fair."

Wouldn't it be easier having your prescription medicines delivered direct to your door?

REGISTER
FREE
TODAY

With nothing to lose except those trips to the surgery and to the chemist, it makes sense to register for our NHS repeat prescription service now.

Call us on 01582 591616 or register online at www.birdsfootpharmacy.co.uk

As simple as 1-2-3

Once you have registered with us, you can order your prescription by post, online or by phone.

- 1 We phone or e-mail to remind you when your prescription is due and confirm what you would like ordered. If you prefer, simply phone us at any time.
- 2 We order the prescription from your surgery and they send it to us electronically.
- 3 Our pharmacists dispense your prescription, which is then delivered free to your door by our delivery driver.

No wonder 98% of our customers prefer our services. It goes without saying that we're proud of the service we offer. But most importantly, 98% of our customers say that they find the service far more convenient than getting repeat prescriptions the normal way.

Register today and get your next prescription without leaving home. It's quick and easy to register for repeat prescription deliveries from Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy.

Call us on 01582 591616 or visit us at www.birdsfootpharmacy.co.uk

As it won't cost you or indeed the NHS a penny more or could save you so much time and effort it makes sense to register today.

SO EASY TO JOIN TODAY – WITH NO COMMITMENT

Whether you choose to join by mail, phone or online, there's absolutely no commitment – you are free to stop using us at any time.

Frequently asked questions

•Who are Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy?

We are an approved provider of NHS prescription dispensing services. We specialize in the home delivery of medicines and currently serve hundreds of people in Luton.

•Who delivers my medicine?

Your medicines will normally be delivered by our very own drivers.

•Is delivery always free?

Yes it is, what's more, we can deliver to any address – your home, your place of work or to your carer.

•What if I'm out when my delivery arrives?

You can tell us to leave your parcel with a neighbour if you prefer. If not, our delivery driver will leave a card to arrange a redelivery for free.

•Can I switch to Birdsfoot Lane Pharmacy if I already nominated another pharmacy?

Yes. The NHS Electronic Prescription Service is a new way to let patients choose the pharmacy service that best suits

NHS repeat prescriptions have never been easier

We can remind you every time a prescription is due

We receive your prescription electronically from your doctor or collect it from your surgery

We dispense and deliver it free to your door. There's no commitment, you can stop at any time. If you need repeat NHS prescriptions, we've got some very good news for you. All your repeat prescriptions can now be delivered to your home - at no extra cost – so you don't have to brave bad weather, wait for buses, find a spot to park or even rely on someone else for help.

Delivered free to your door

The new NHS Electronic Prescription Service enables doctors to send prescriptions direct to pharmacies like as Birdsfoot Lane. We then take care of all arrangements necessary to get your repeat prescriptions delivered free to your door.

Solidarity a year on from attacks

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A YEAR ago today 137 people were killed in the French capital Paris when ISIS supporters launched attacks across the city.

Last weekend, a Luton community leader joined a trip to France to express solidarity with those killed by terrorist attacks in the country over the past year.

The group, made up of five imams and three Christian leaders, travelled to Normandy and Paris, sites of ISIS terrorist attacks in the last 12 months.

One of the party was Dawood Masood, leader of Al-Hira Trust, a Luton inter-faith group. They visited Paris on November 5 and then travelled to Etienne-du-Rouvray the following day, where a priest was killed by militants on July 26 this year.

Mr Masood said: "Our first stop in Paris was visiting the Bataclan, the site of the shootings last November.

"We met with nearby Jewish leaders and discussed the impact of the events on the local community."

They also visited a number

SHOW OF SUPPORT: Dawood Masood (far left and inset) on his visit of other sites affected by the simultaneous attacks in the French capital. Mr Masood said: "We then went to the church in Saint-Etienne-du-Rouvray, where Father Jaques Hamel was killed."

While there, they met colleagues of Father Hamel and also members of the town's congregation.

Mr Masood said the people of the town feel no different towards each other than they did before. He added: "They feel this way because the people who committed this horrific crime were not from their community.

"The Muslim and Christian communities had a very close relationship before and that has not changed since."

"Attacks like this cause division and fear, we wanted to go over there to show togetherness and solidarity."

HOW do you go missing in one of the most monitored nations in the world?

A Bedfordshire on Sunday Freedom of Information request has revealed that hundreds of people are reported missing each year in Bedfordshire and some have not been seen since the 1970s.

On average, (using data from 2010-2015) 567 missing person alerts are received by Bedfordshire Police each year – and an average 303 of which will be men.

There are currently 65 outstanding cases, 43 of which relate to people who have been missing for over a year.

Every year, most Bedfordshire reports are for teenagers – an average 319 each year.

And the numbers of missing person reports plummet over the Christmas holidays: an average 37 missing person alerts are received during December compared to averages of 58, 64 and 61 during May, June and July, respectively.

Detective Chief Inspector Liz Mead, and lead for the missing persons unit at Bedfordshire Police revealed 'the vast majority of people are found missing within hours'.

GOING MISSING:
Sonica Hans and right, Detective Chief Inspector Liz Mead

"You'd be surprised by how many people are found in garden sheds or in their own homes."

"The first thing that happens when you report a missing person is we will risk assess it: if have they gone missing before, what might have triggered the episode, did they leave a note."

"Two officers are normally deployed to the home address of the informant to ask further questions and get a photograph. The risk assessment is really important – sometimes people ring up and really they know exactly where that person is because they've been killed."

Missing persons work has become so intertwined with Child Sexual Exploitation investigations that the two units co-located to a base in Flitwick last month.

"We work very closely with social care," DCI Mead explained.

"If someone is going missing regularly it is about trying to establish why and resolving the problem. We do get comments on social media - is this the same person again? But it doesn't mean they're any less vulnerable. We are also focusing on reporting as soon as there is a concern – it's about

- Teenagers are significantly more likely to go missing than any other age group
- There are currently 65 missing people- but only eight have been missing for longer than two years
- Men are more likely to go missing than women
- The numbers of people who disappeared in 2015 have halved compared to five years ago (1062 in 2010 and 438 in 2015)
- The vast majority of people are found within hours then aged 35, went missing from her Bedford home on Boxing Day 2012 after telling her sister and housemate Manisha that she was just popping out to the shops.

A woman matching her description was spotted on CCTV outside the Swan hotel but she hasn't been seen or heard of since. And in December 2014, 13-year-old Luton girl Lillian Jacobson left her uncle's home for school but didn't turn up for her classes and disappeared.

"Missing persons are never assumed dead," DCI Mead said "we never, ever give up."

asking what is happening to that young person while they're missing.

"Some adults don't want to be reunited with their family and we have to respect that. We had one such cases where a person was found after a six-year search but did not want their contact details passed on. It does happen."

Carnival inquiry: anyone you recognise?

POLICE are appealing for help to identify a number of individuals as part of their investigation into the violent disorder which followed the Luton Carnival in May. Disorder broke out on St George's Square on the evening of the carnival in May. Five people have been charged with offences, but the investigation continues. CCTV has been released by police. Call Bedfordshire Police anonymously on 101.

'Prisoners took matters into their own hands'

A RIOT involving hundreds of prisoners broke out at Bedford jail last Sunday.

Guards retreated after prisoners went on the rampage, ransacked offices, stole medical equipment and set fires. It took six hours, stun grenades and a host of 'specialist' officers in riot gear to subdue the disturbance. The next day inmates were transferred to jails across the country and three men aged 39, 37 and 26 were arrested on suspicion of committing offences under the Prison Security Act.

Howard League for Penal Reform's Andrew Neilson said: "Less than two months after Bedford was described by the Chief Inspector of Prisons as an 'abject failure', we see shocking evidence in the riot that broke out.

"Bedford is unsafe, overcrowded and understaffed. Prisoners can obtain drugs easily but cannot get essentials such as clothes and sheets. Things are now so bad prisoners effectively took matters into their own hands."

Tourist detained for manslaughter

BY NICK SMITH

nick.smith@lutononsunday.co.uk

A LATVIAN tourist who battered an IT engineer to death with a fire extinguisher is to be detained indefinitely in a secure mental health unit.

Reinis Pupolins, 22, launched a random attack on Ashwin Desai in a lift at the Hampton Hilton Hotel near Luton Airport on September 20 last year.

Mr Desai, who had an eight-year-old daughter, was flown back home to Canada in a coma where he died in hospital three months later.

Luton Crown Court heard on Monday that Pupolins had suffered a psychotic episode and that voices told him to kill someone.

Pupolins had been on holiday in Madeira and returned to Bristol airport but missed a flight back to Latvia and so had booked another from Luton.

He told a receptionist at the nearby Ibis hotel that the Russian Mafia and spies were monitoring him.

The diagnosis was very likely to be paranoid schizophrenia, said Judge Michael Kay QC.

The prosecution accepted a not guilty plea to murder and guilty plea to manslaughter on the grounds of diminished responsibility.

Judge Kay made an order under Section 37 and 41 of the Mental Health Act which means Pupolins will be detained in a secure psychiatric unit under a continuous restriction order.

Teen adds a personal touch to police car

A BUDDING young artist has given a police car a dash of colour.

Eleanor Clark, 14, a Queensbury Academy pupil from Dunstable, won an art competition held by Bedfordshire Police which asked youngsters to create a design expressing what policing means to the community.

Her artwork is now on a non-response vehicle which will be used by community teams to carry out patrols and enquiries.

Eleanor said: "It shows the towns, cities and the rural sides, and the hands show the police and community coming together."

"It's very exciting to see it on the car in real life."

Have a screamer of a time at the circus

THE 'Circus of Horrors' is celebrating its 21st year of entertaining the public - and brings its latest show right here to Dunstable.

Its 'Never-Ending Nightmare' production features an amazing amalgamation of bizarre, brave and beautiful acts all woven into an 'Alice in Horrorland-type' story.

Driven by a mainly original soundscape and performed with a forked tongue firmly in each cheek, it's a show that simply can't be missed. The Circus of Horrors started its gruesome beginnings at the 1995 Glastonbury Festival and became an instant hit, touring all over the world, including festival appearances with Alice Cooper, Eminem, Motley Crue, Oasis and Iron Maiden.

It also created history as it became the only circus ever to reach the finals of Britain's Got Talent in 2011, and the first circus to perform in London's West End for over 100 years.

The Circus Of Horrors' appearances on various subsequent TV shows have turned what started as a cult show into a household name - taking the extreme to the mainstream.

The show takes place at The Grove Theatre at 7.30pm on Friday. Tickets cost from £20 and can be purchased by calling the Box Office on 01582 60 20 80 - or heading online to www.grovetheatre.co.uk

MUSIC

Red Butler have 'nothing to lose'

DYNAMIC rock and blues band Red Butler is fast making a name for itself across Britain and Europe.

Audiences instantly seem to tap into the fire and passion generated by the young band from Brighton.

November sees the culmination of 18 months of preparation with the release of the band's lovingly crafted second album, 'Nothing To Lose'.

The music represents a dynamic band in transition and follows the success of Red Butler's debut release Freedom Bound in summer 2014.

The Nothing to Lose tour showcases the new album and the extended line-up. Initial gigs have thrilled audiences as the band unleashes its energy with control and power.

Nothing to Lose is a collaborative project drawn from the band members' individual experiences of life and music.

The band sees the need to deliver a message to younger people whilst retaining the support of their established blues and rock audience.

Influences include SRV, Free, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Foo Fighters, Gary Clarke Jr. and artists such as Royal Blood and Vintage Trouble.

Alex Butler established the band in 2012 with the settled line-up comprising Alex (lead guitar and backing vocals), Jane Pearce (lead vocals), Charlie Simpson (drums) and Mike Topp (bass and backing vocals).

The band toured with Laurence Jones Band, Billy Walton Band and Danny Bryant, learning a great deal in the process.

With the heavier sound of Nothing to Lose, Dan Spellman (guitar and backing vocals) has been added to the line-up.

Despite an average age of 24 the band members bring a wealth of experience enabling them to transmit their energy to ignite audiences.

Dan has quickly tapped into that vibe having previously worked with Alex and Charlie in ColdHeat, which dates back to 2008.

The power and sensitivity of their music has seen the band win national awards. They have represented the UK at the European Blues Challenge in Italy in 2016, they won the UK Blues Challenge 2015 and have multiple nominations in this year's British Blues Awards.

The band will be playing at The Bear Club for the second time at 8.30pm on Saturday (November 19). Tickets cost £10 for adults and £9 for concessions. Purchase them by visiting the-bear.club

DANCE

Ballet marks 50 years on stage

TWIRL into a frosty dream this month with one of the best-loved ballets of all time - The Nutcracker - as it comes to Milton Keynes Theatre.

On a sparkling Christmas Eve in a warm, Edwardian London, Clara and her enchanted Nutcracker doll discover a magical world where she battles with the Mouse King and meets a handsome stranger.

As the air grows colder Clara and her valiant Nutcracker take a hot air balloon ride across London to the glistening Land of Snow where her adventure really begins.

This year, The Nutcracker sees debuts from Rina Kanehara in the role of Clara, Emilio Pavan in the role of Nephew, Aitor Arrieta in the role of Nephew and Nutcracker, and Guilherme Menezes in the role of Nutcracker.

Whether you are a dance devotee or are simply enchanted with the magical tale of the Nutcracker, this ballet is the perfect way to step into the festive season.

Last year saw English National Ballet's most successful Nutcracker run on record, when more than 73,000 people made a performance at the London Coliseum part of their holiday celebrations.

This year's tour of Wayne Eagling's version continues the company's tradition of presenting a Nutcracker production every year since 1950, its founding year.

Based on a concept by Toer van Schayk and Wayne Eagling, The Nutcracker has choreography by Wayne Eagling and music by Pyotr Ilyich Tchaikovsky, performed by the English National Ballet Philharmonic. The English National Ballet's critically acclaimed production will complete a short tour at Milton Keynes Theatre before heading to the London Coliseum for Christmas.

The show is in town from November 23-26. Tickets are priced from £12 and can be booked at atgtickets.com or by calling 0844 871 7652.

Matinee performances (2.30pm) are available on November 24 and 26.

ONE LAST JOB

The gripping story of Brian Reader,
 Britain's most prolific, old-school crook

Branded 'The Master' and 'a Gentleman Thief' Brian is a true British crime character. Gang insiders, family, friends and detectives talk for the first time about Reader's six-decade career. The authors reveal the Hatton Garden gang's links to an unsolved gangland murder, bent cops, police supergrass and an alleged establishment cover-up. The book also includes new details about Basil, dubbed 'The Ghost' after he became the only gang member to escape justice.

>with NIGEL LEWIS

Sinatra got a kick out of this

THE singing, dancing and acting talents of Frank Sinatra have been boiled down these days to two songs – New York, New York and My Way – both of which are still sung badly in karaoke bars across the world.

It's now 18 years since Sinatra died and his legacy lives on, particularly for his more serious fans who cherish his chart topping albums such as Come Fly With Me and films such as From Here To Eternity and the musical Guys and Dolls.

But Sinatra is also well known for his membership of a very exclusive club called 'the rat pack', an elite club of entertainers including fellow stars Dean Martin and Sammy Davis Jr.

But when not on stage or ripping it up in bars with his starry pals, Sinatra liked to withdraw to his home in Palm Springs near Los Angeles. It's called Villa Maggio, named after his character Angelo Maggio in From Here To Eternity and a home he built it in 1967 overlooking the stunning Coachella Valley.

He loved the property so much that he remained in residence there until his death in 1998.

It's a 10-acre compound comprising three buildings including a five-bedroom house and two guest chalets, all on a craggy granite hilltop.

The property comes with several original Sinatra touches including a secret door, his choice of bathroom wallpaper and a food mixer.

■ It is now on the market for $3.9 million. More information from www.toptenrealestatedeals.com/homes/weekly-ten-best-home-deals/2016/11-01-2016/

Somewhere to 'walk in beauty'

Lord Byron was Britain's greatest poet famed for his unusual lifestyle, loves and hugely popular poems many of which continue to beat at the heart of our lives today.

The character of Dracula was said to be based on Byron's pasty demeanour while more recently acts as diverse as Boney M and Leonard Cohen have employed his poetry in their lyrics. David Bowie also used his character in his Blue Jean video and Suede's song Heroine refers to his poem She Walks in Beauty.

But Byron wasn't quite the downtrodden poetry rock star many authors and songwriters are drawn to. Although he had a famously fruity personal life, he was the son of the gentry and one of his relatives, the 4th Lord Byron, was granted a former Augustinian abbey called Newstead in 1540 by Henry VIII.

Lord Byron the poet inherited the property off his great uncle in 1798 and he lived there on and off for most of his later life, battling the financial strains of keeping such a huge estate in the black.

Although he eventually sold the property for £95,000 while in Italian exile, he once predicted inaccurately that 'Newstead and I stand or fall together'. In a later poem, he was close to the truth when he wrote 'the hall of my fathers, art gone to decay'.

Luckily, today Newstead Abbey is in fine fettle and agent Savills (0115 934 8020) has a home created within its Gothic stable block for sale. Called Gable End, it's a recently restored three-bedroom house overlooking the gorgeous abbey and within its grounds. It's on the market at £625,000.

Jeanette Winterson's fruity gas conversion

There are hundreds of homes on the market at the moment with former industrial uses from old jam factories to converted Cold War bunkers.

But this property is unique. It's an old gas works built in 1877 to make cooking gas that has been converted by author Jeanette Winterson of Oranges Are Not The Only Fruit fame.

It harks from age before natural gas when coal was heated to create vapour for a range of uses including lighting, cooking and heating.

The ruined site was bought by Winterson in 1994 for £500,000 as a writer's retreat and is near the village of Upper Slaughter in Gloucestershire. It was subsequently refurbished including a redesign by renowned architect Chris Dyson. He added a large and striking steel-clad extension at its rear and work was completed last year.

The older part of the property, which once housed the gasworks, includes two reception rooms, Winterson's writing room and a bedroom while the contemporary extension includes three more bedrooms and a striking steel tower in which there is an office and a further sitting room.

The property's renovation and extension was chronicled by Winterson in a series of articles for The Times, during which she detailed her battle to finance and complete the project.

"My feeling is that, whatever the future of this building, I have done all I can to restore it properly," she said.

Her work did not go unnoticed and the Royal Institute of British Architects this year lauded it as for making 'a silk purse from a sow's ear'.

But Winterson is on the move again. The property is now on the market with Strutt & Parker (01608 653307) for £1.59 million.

No kitchen sink dramas here

IF YOU'RE fan of musicals and theatre, then this converted barn should be just the ticket.

The Long Barn is the home to a behind-the-scenes talent called Warren Brown who regularly makes the magic happen on the world's famous stages, but who rarely steps into the limelight.

He's a scriptwriter who has worked with an array of famous names including Arlene Phillips of Strictly Come Dancing fame, ballet star Darcy Bussell, actors Derek Jacobi and Marti Webb plus dancer Wayne Sleep.

Brown also wrote the script for the new version of Cinderella currently playing at the London Palladium starring Amanda Holden, Nigel Havers Paul O'Grady and Julian Clary.

Other productions he helped create include 2002's Garbo – The Musical, the stage version of Scandal and The Biograph Girl.

He also scripted a ballet for Princess Diana in 1991 and was himself the subject of a BBC TV documentary called The Making of a Musical.

He's busy right now too helping write a Broadway musical version of The Thomas Crown Affair, as well as Son of a Preacher Man featuring the songs of Dusty Springfield.

But he's on the move too. His barn, which features three reception rooms and three bedrooms, is in the Oxfordshire countryside near the village of Sonning and is on the market with Savills Henley (01491 843000) for £695,000 which, although not going for song, is a nice opening numbers

Where Churchill went on to the end

WHEN Winston Churchill was ejected from power following the 1945 General Election he and his wife Clementine needed a home after five years spent at No.10 while he was wartime Prime Minister.

What few remember these days is that they bought a home on Hyde Park Gate in London which, except for his four-year return to power in 1950, they called home until his death in 1965.

At the time the property was well known to millions – the Churchillian comings and goings at the property were featured regularly on Pathé newsreels, and the property was the centre of press attention in 1958 when it was burgled and Churchill's store of cigars reportedly stolen.

Hyde Park Gate was, and is now, a fashionable place to live and it is only a short walk from both the Royal Albert Hall and Hyde Park.

And the Churchills are not the only famous residents to have enjoyed its brownstone mansion blocks and Victorian villas.

The founder of the Scouts, Lord Baden Powell lived on the street as did writer Virginia Woolf and more recently broadcaster Nigella Lawson.

If you have £23m set aside for your next home, then you too could live here.

■ The Churchills' former home at No.28 is now for sale through agent Strutt & Parker (020 7313 8408) and comes with seven bedrooms, a 55ft back garden, four reception rooms, a wine cellar and three bathrooms.

Educational Vacancies

SCHOOL DIRECT INITIAL TEACHER TRAINING (ITT)

This exciting school based programme of Initial Teacher Training is available from September, 2017. Places are available to new trainees at our Lead School of Redborne Upper as well as our partner schools across Central Bedfordshire including Stratton Upper. Training places are available in the following subjects:

- English
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Chemistry
- Biology
- Modern Languages
- Geography
- History
- Physical Education

Candidates will need to pay a course fee of £9,000 but may be eligible for bursaries and loans, details available on the DfE website.

Successful trainees will be awarded Qualified Teacher Status (QTS) and a PGCE from our training provider, which is the University of Bedfordshire. We welcome applicants who have UK residency, GCSE Mathematics and English (or equivalent) at Grade C or above, and a degree - preferably First Class, Upper Second or Lower Second - in the subject in which the candidate wishes to train to teach, or a closely-related subject.

Keen on applying but need some more experience?

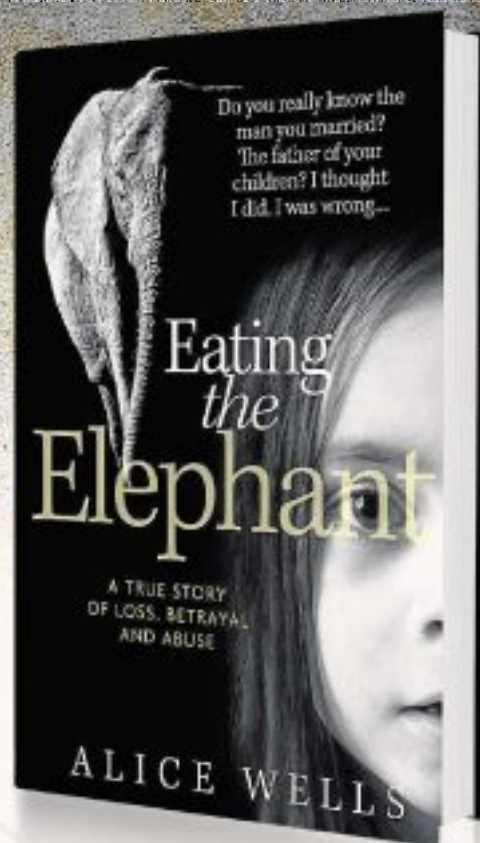

Come and meet the team at our 'Taster Mornings' where you will have the opportunity to gain an understanding of the work of a teacher and get a real flavour of the school environment. Our 'Taster Mornings' will be Wednesday 30th November, 2016, hosted at Redborne Upper School, Ampthill and Wednesday 11th January, 2017 hosted at Stratton Upper School, Biggleswade. You will undertake a learning walk observing outstanding teachers at work, meet class teachers and current trainees. To book your place on the 'Taster Mornings', please contact Jon Gunn on 01525 842608 or stjgunn@redborne.beds.sch.uk.

How to apply?

Further details for any of the above training places can be found on the Redborne Upper School website (www.redborne.com) as well as the websites of our partner schools. Applications must be made online at the following address and applicants must select Redborne Upper School and Community College (1R7) as the training provider <http://www.ucas.com/apply/teacher-training>

All offers of a place are "conditional" until Disclosure and Barring checks have been successfully completed; qualification checks and satisfactory references have been received and the professional skills tests passed. Our partnership is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff and volunteers to share this commitment.

Do you really know the man you married?

"I urge you to take reasonable steps in order that you are equipped to enter what is, in emotional terms, a hard-hat area."

Alice, a doctor and mother of two, tells the story of her marriage to a man hiding a terrible secret. Her feelings and fears are laid bare in a moving and honest way that will stay with you for a long time to come.

The gripping story of Brian Reader,
Britain's most prolific, old-school crook

Branded 'The Master' and 'a Gentleman Thief' Brian is a true British crime character. Gang insiders, family, friends and detectives talk for the first time about Reader's six-decade career. The authors reveal the Hatton Garden gang's links to an unsolved gangland murder, bent cops, police supergrassess and an alleged establishment cover-up. The book also includes new details about Basil, dubbed 'The Ghost' after he became the only gang member to escape justice.

Volkswagen ends WRC reign

By: Chris Russon

VOLKSWAGEN has announced it is pulling out of the World Rally Championship only days after it claimed victory in the Rally Great Britain in Wales and secured its fourth consecutive WRC manufacturers' title. The announcement comes less than a week after Audi revealed it was to curtail its motorsport activities and is quitting the Le Mans endurance series to concentrate on developing electric racing cars.

VW says it will be switching its attention to customer sport and will be developing a series of new models for privateers and individual teams. "The Volkswagen brand is facing enormous challenges," said Frank Welsch, member of the VW board of management responsible for technical development.

He told the company's 200 motorsport employees in Hanover: "With the upcoming expansion in electrification of our vehicle range we must focus all our efforts on important future technologies. We far exceeded our sporting goals in the WRC, now we are realigning Volkswagen Motorsport and moving the vehicle technology of the future more starkly into focus."

He said that for 2017 onwards the company would focus on customer racing with the Golf GTITCR in touring car series racing and the Beetle GRC in rallycross.

Volkswagen will also begin development of a new rally vehicle in the R5-category based on the next generation Polo and will offer the car to customers to buy from 2018 onwards.

The company, hit by the 'dieselgate' emissions cheating scandal last year, said no jobs would be affected as a result of the decision.

Since 2013 Volkswagen has dominated the world rally scene with the Polo R WRC where the factory teams of Sebastien Ogier/Julien Ingrassia, Jari-Matti Latvala/Miikka Anttila and Andreas Mikkelsen/Anders Jæger competed in 51 rallies with 42 wins and 621 best special stage times.

No other car in the history of the World Rally Championship has had a better success rate culminating in last weekend's victory for Ogier and Ingrassia in the Rally Great Britain.

VW is now ranked fourth in the overall list of WRC manufacturer champions behind Lancia which has secured 10 titles, Citroen with eight and Peugeot with five.

Sven Smeets, director of Volkswagen Motorsport said: "Of course, we regret the departure from the WRC very much – as this was the most successful chapter in the Volkswagen brand's motorsport history."

"The team has done great things. At the same time, our vision is firmly ahead, because we are aware of the great challenges facing the entire company. We want our realignment to contribute to the success of the Volkswagen brand. From now on, the focus is on upcoming technologies in motorsport and on our customer sports range, where we will position ourselves more broadly and attractively."

Volkswagen Touran SE 1.2 TSI

By: Ian Johnson

FOR A busy family on the move a midi-MPV is still one of the most viable propositions.

And if you like your family motoring laced with more than a dash of quality, then the latest Volkswagen Touran delivers in no uncertain terms.

In fact, it is the overall build quality of this vehicle that impresses as soon as you clap eyes on it.

These days there is no such thing as a really bad car and most are constructed to an acceptable standard. But in terms of fine panel joins and quality of materials Volkswagen take it to the max with this vehicle.

It provides all the old VW features and a lot of new ones too, all brought together on a new platform based on the company's MQB design, making the Touran larger than the model it replaced, offering more interior space.

What it also does is offer excellent luggage space even though it comes as standard with seven seats.

It gives 917 litres of luggage room loaded to the roof with the rearmost seats in place, rising to 1,857 litres with the middle three seats folded. And there are up to 47 storage compartments.

VW claims that it is the most family friendly vehicle around and I believe it.

For instance, all who have had children know the feeling of frustration when World War Three is raging in the back and you have to keep your mind on the road and pull over when safe to sort it all out.

Volkswagen's answer is something called Cam Connect, available in the Touran range, which utilises a Go Pro camera to display images on the touchscreen so you can referee without turning round.

And it is possible to lay the law down by using the in-car phone mics and sound system so the youngsters cannot claim they did not hear you because of traffic or radio noise.

There are a variety of petrol and diesel powered options, my test vehicle featuring a 1.2-litre TSI petrol unit linked to a six-speed manual gearbox.

You might think that a 1.2 in a seven seater may prove to be a gutless and boring choice, but this is not the case as direct injection and turbocharging give this unit the 110ps punch you would normally associate with a larger engine.

Top speed is 117mph and 0-62mph comes up in 11.3 seconds but it is this car's smoothness in all conditions that impressed me and certainly made the point that lower capacity petrol power is back with a vengeance.

AS with most VWs, the Touran SE 1.2 is not exactly cheap weighing in at £23,630, but it offers a lot for the money.

An extra option on the model I drove which I would recommend is the Discover Navigation touch-screen navigation/radio system with Car-Net guide and Inform. This offers access to a mass of information for an outlay of £810.

NEW FORD TECHNOLOGY FOR SAFER DRIVING BY: STEWART SMITH

FORD has always been at the cutting edge when it comes to the latest innovations in driver aids and safety equipment and has developed several new systems which will appear in its future products.

Nerve-wracking, potentially hazardous and a significant contributor to repair bills for low-speed bumps and scrapes – parking is a pet-hate for drivers everywhere.

Ford claims that in the UK a quarter of accidents occur in car parks. Almost half of drivers say they would rather travel further from their destination than attempt to parallel park.

The company has also developed cross-traffic alert with braking technology designed to help reduce parking stress by detecting people and objects about to pass behind the vehicle, providing a warning to the driver and then automatically braking if the driver does not respond.

Rear wide-view camera, on the in-car display, will offer an alternative wide-angle view of the rear of the vehicle. Enhanced active park assist will parallel or perpendicular park at the push of a button.

Other technologies also developed at the Ford European Research and Innovation Centre in Aachen, Germany, include systems designed to help drivers steer around other vehicles to help avoid high speed collisions, and to warn drivers from travelling the wrong way down motorways.

Ford calls it an evasive steering assistant.

These new technologies – expected to be first made available on Ford vehicles in the next two years, are part of the company's commitment to triple its investment in developing driver assist features, to evolve them further and to expand their capabilities, speeding the roll-out of systems that make it easier to park and drive in heavy traffic, and help drivers avoid collisions.

Edmund King, president of the AA said: "Drivers must remain alert and reactive when behind the wheel but assist technology can help.

"There are great benefits in Ford developing new assist technologies which can aid the driver to avoid collisions, spot vulnerable road-users in blind spots or eradicate parking rage by making parking easier."

INFINITI Q60 FOR 2017 DEBUT

BY: STEWART SMITH

INFINITI's premium sports coupe, the new Q60, has just gone on sale and first deliveries of the sleek-looking newcomer will be made in the UK early next year.

The all-new Q60 comes with the choice of two powertrains - a 2.0-litre petrol engine turbocharged to produce 208bhp and a 3.0 litre V6 twin-turbo boosted to a whopping 400bhp.

The new Infiniti will be up against the likes of the latest Mercedes C-Class Coupe, the upcoming Audi A5 and the Lexus RC.

Prices start at £33,990 for the entry level Premium specification and the Q60 comes with state-of-the-art features such as Infiniti's second-generation direct adaptive steering and a new dynamic digital suspension with drive mode selector.

Four specifications are on offer with Premium Tech, Sport and Sport Tech trims priced from £37,690 to £38,690.

High tech equipment includes intelligent cruise control with distance control assist enabling the drive to set a desired speed and the car will automatically and smoothly decelerate in slowing traffic.

When the ICC system traffic pace resumes will bring the Q60 back up to the pre-set speed and safety distance.

Another feature is active lane control which works with the adaptive steering to evaluate the road ahead, automatically making small steering angle corrections if the car experiences minor direction changes due to uneven road surfaces or crosswinds.

An adaptive front lighting system improves visibility around curves by sensing the steering and turning the headlights. Together with LED auto-leveling lamps it increases the overall field of vision at night.

The Q60 drive mode selector gives drivers the option of altering steering response and feel. At the touch of a button there are six choices: Standard, Snow, Eco, Customise, Sport and Sport+, depending on the specification.

Under the bonnet, the all-new 3.0-litre V6 twin-turbo engine has water-cooled air charging, a turbo speed sensor and advanced turbine blades designed for quicker response and higher peak torque.

Certain systems can also be accessed remotely through an Infiniti In Touch Services App which interacts directly with the car from a smartphone or personal computer.

Infiniti says that the new Q60 should be one of the quietest cars around for driver and passengers while on the entertainment front it comes with a 13-speaker Bose stereo which features active noise cancellation – a system that emits certain frequencies through the speakers to cancel out any exterior noise, especially from the engine.

ROD STEWART'S LAMBO SELLS FOR £900,000 BY: CHRIS RUSSON

A LAMBORGHINI Miura once owned by Sir Rod Stewart has sold for almost a million pounds at auction.

The car was one of two superstar models sold at a Coys auction during the Classic and Sports Car Show at London's Alexandra Palace.

The other hot lot was a Maserati Ghibli with U2 drummer Adam Clayton's name in the log book which went under the hammer for a world record price of £303,000.

The Miura, which sold for £909,000, took centre stage at the sale and became the most valuable car to sell at the auction.

The P400S Lamborghini had been the subject of a £100,000 restoration and upgrade to SV specification while the Maserati was one of only eight right-hand drive models ever made.

Another headline lot was the first registered Range Rover, which went for £93,000. The 1970 Range Rover was the 26th model manufactured and is believed to be the first car that Land Rover registered to themselves on May 27, 1970. It went on to become one of the first of the batch of 20 Press launch cars.

Other notable vehicles which went under the hammer at the sale included an original right hand drive 1974 Ferrari Dino 246 GT E Series, with coachwork by Scaglietti and design by Pininfarina, which went for £374,000 and a 1977 Ferrari 512 BB that featured at the 1977 London Motor Show, which sold for £225,000.

NEW LOOK FOR MITSUBISHI ASX

BY: STEWART SMITH

THE latest version of Mitsubishi's ASX crossover is now on sale in the UK with updated styling inside and out. The new ASX gets a sleek new look courtesy of what Mitsubishi Motors Corporation calls its "Dynamic Shield" design bringing it in line with other models in the range such as the new Outlander and Outlander PHEV.

The front end now appears with bold chromed streaks sitting either side of the grille, shielding the three diamond Mitsubishi mark.

It also comes with a new shark fin antenna, revised seat cushions, new seat upholstery across the range and a new "Lightning Blue" colour option.

Versions of the new ASX range have also been changed, returning to the straightforward ASX 2, ASX 3, ASX 4 and ASX 5 designation with changes to trim levels. The engine range is carried over from the outgoing ASX, with a 117bhp 1.6-litre MIVEC petrol engine driving the front wheels via a five-speed manual gearbox, a 114bhp 1.6-litre DI-D turbo diesel engine with a six-speed manual gearbox and a 150bhp 2.2-litre DI-D turbo diesel with on-demand four-wheel drive and a six-speed automatic transmission as standard.

The ASX 2 is the entry-point to the ASX range but it offers a high level of standard equipment including 16-inch alloy wheels, front fog lamps, air conditioning, Bluetooth phone connectivity, a USB port with iPhone compatibility, a leather-trimmed steering wheel, multifunction colour instrument display, electric windows front and rear.

Priced at £15,999 for the 1.6 petrol 117bhp, safety gear includes Mitsubishi active stability and traction control, hill start assist and seven airbags as standard.

Move up to the ASX 3 and price for the 1.6 petrol is from £18,349 with the 1.6 turbo diesel from £20,349.

It comes with 18-inch alloys, automatic climate control, keyless entry, cruise control, automatic light and rain sensors, xenon headlights with washers, DAB radio and Bluetooth music streaming, heated front seats, electric-folding door mirrors and, new for 2017, a reversing camera.

The ASX 4, which is priced from £24,249 for the 4WD, also offers a panoramic glass roof and Mitsubishi's Multi Communication System, which includes a seven-inch HD touch-screen display, satellite navigation, DAB, CD player, SD card compatibility and reversing camera.

The flagship Mitsubishi ASX 5 1.6 turbo diesel 4WD will be priced from £26,949 with the top-of-the-range ASX 5 2.2 turbo diesel automatic 4WD costing £28,349.

The new models will be on the road in January.

MERCEDES SPRINTER BORN TO WIN BY: IAN JOHNSON

MERCEDES-BENZ has tagged the market slogan Born to Run to its van range but it also appears they are born to win.

The Mercedes-Benz Sprinter has again received the coveted FN50 award for the most reliable van, collecting the award for the second consecutive year, and the third year since 2011.

The top-place ranking was announced at the annual FN50 event hosted at the Park Plaza in London, attended by over 900 industry professionals.

The FN50 is an independent market perspective audit ranking the largest 50 leasing companies across the UK, carried out in August and September of 2016.

Steve Bridge, managing director, Mercedes-Benz Vans UK, said: "Sprinter keeps on adding to its awards haul, even though it is far from the newest van on the block. In fact, in Europe it has defined an entire class of van – known as the Sprinter segment!"

"The FN50 award for most reliable van proves that the tough, durable, dependable workhorse which is a firm favourite for fleets, actually does what it says it's going to do.

"And if our vans do breakdown, we offer MobiloVan free of charge to our customers, which enables UK and Europe-wide free roadside assistance by Mercedes-Benz trained technicians carrying Mercedes-Benz GenuineParts, to get the vehicle back on the road as quickly as possible."

RENAULT GOES FURTHER WITH ALL-ELECTRIC ZOE BY: STEWART SMITH

THE Renault Zoe was Europe's biggest-selling all-electric car in 2015 and the latest version can travel further and has added kit.

With a claimed 250 mile range on a full charge, the new Zoe offers the best range of any mainstream electric vehicle.

In real-world driving, Renault estimates the Zoe fitted with a new Z.E.40 battery has a range of between 186 miles in temperate conditions and 124 miles in extreme cold weather.

The Zoe is now offered with a choice of two power packs – the Z.E.40 battery and the existing 22kWh battery which gives the car a maximum range of 150 miles.

The entry level Expression version comes with the 22kWh battery whilst Dynamique Nav and above are offered with the new Z.E.40 battery.

The more powerful version comes with an optional quick charge facility that reduces charging times even further. Both versions have similar performance with a 0 to 60 time of 13.5 seconds and a top speed of 84mph.

All Zoes sold to private customers are supplied with a fully-installed 7kW fast-charging box that enables easy charging at home.

The updated Zoe is being expanded to a five-version line-up based on three trim levels familiar to owners of other Renault vehicles – Expression, Dynamique Nav and the new top-of-the-range Signature Nav.

The Zoe remains available to purchase with a monthly battery lease agreement or can be bought outright with no battery lease agreement.

Top of the range Zoe Dynamique Nav adds to the Expression spec with a hands free keycard, automatic lights and wipers, rear parking sensors, rear electric windows and electrically operated, heated and folding door mirrors, 16-inch 'Black Shadow' alloy wheels and a leather steering wheel and gear lever.

In addition to Renault's Z.E. Connect app, which hooks up the vehicle to the Internet, the Dynamique Nav benefits from a one-year subscription to the Z.E. Interactive app. Via a smartphone or computer this allows you to remotely charge your Zoe and schedule charges, as well as cabin temperature pre-conditioning.

Prices range from £13,995 to £26,245 depending on whether buyers opt for a battery lease deal or full purchase and includes a government plug-in grant.

The new Zoe is ready to order with deliveries due in January.

A true story of love, abandonment and one heartbreaking secret...

Phyllis always knew she was adopted, she felt unwelcome, unwanted and often on the outside of family life. As a young woman she began the search for her mother. It was a journey of coincidence and heartbreak, love and revulsion, ultimately leading to a sacrifice that would change her life forever.

Finding Tipperary Mary is an uplifting story about a daughter who fought against all odds to build a relationship with the woman who abandoned her.
Her honest account deals with issues of adoption, alcoholism, abuse, dementia and forgiveness.

Fans continue to reject the Trophy's feeble new format

SINCE taking up this job, there are plenty of highlights I've been privileged to report on, but I'm afraid to say covering this season's Checkatrade Trophy hasn't been one of them.

On Tuesday, I was at Northampton Town v West Ham U21s for one of our sister publications and it seemed to sum up everything wrong with the competition and its current format.

The debate about letting in academy teams has been done to death, so we won't dwell on that too much, but suffice to say it hasn't done anything to attract supporters. Quite the opposite, in fact.

Crowds in the early stages of the competition in its old format were never exactly high, but in its new guise, they have been breaking records for the wrong reasons.

This was the case at Sixfields, where only 762 people bothered to show up for a by-product of the group stage, which was introduced this season: dead rubbers.

Neither Northampton nor

West Ham could go through and it gave the Cobblers their lowest-ever home gate for a competitive home game, but the most farcical aspect of the night was saved until last.

After an insipid 1-1 draw, it was confirmed over the tannoy, to the bewilderment of the 'crowd', that there would be a penalty shoot-out to decide who would win an utterly worthless bonus point.

But back to the crowds; it's clear that fans have voted with their feet (although I wish those who abuse the fans that do attend on social media would give it a rest).

When a passionate derby such as Swindon v Oxford United is generating only apathy, and swathes of empty

EMPTY FEELING: Supporters across the country have stayed away from the Checkatrade Trophy seats, you know something is seriously wrong.

A competition that was once just about tolerated is now being flat out rejected by those that matter most when it comes to producing an atmosphere – the supporters.

With any luck, the EFL will see sense and see what everyone else has concluded: the experiment hasn't worked and a nonsensical format, if not the tournament itself, needs to be dropped.

That being said, closer to home, I genuinely believe Luton Town have used the Trophy in the right way.

Yes, they've gone against EFL rules in making the amount of changes that they have, and it could yet draw a fine, but the teams they have named have actually looked like they care about picking up results.

The fringe players involved have appeared hungry to really press their case and youngsters like Akin Famewo, Frankie Musonda and Craig King have come on leaps and bounds.

They'll be involved when the knockout stage begins next month, in which they make the trip to Swindon. Though whether the match will draw more than the 2,698 fans the one against Oxford did remains to be seen.

Legend Leonard to guest at Bedford

ALL-TIME GREAT: Fans have the chance to meet five-weight World Champion Sugar Ray Leonard

BOXING

'LAST Man Standing' returns to Bedford's Corn Exchange on Sunday, November 27 and former five-weight division World Champion Sugar Ray Leonard will be guest of honour.

The evening is the work of local promoter Pete Chandhar, who lists Steve Collins, Frank Bruno, Joe Calzaghe, Nigel Benn, Tim Witherspoon and David Haye as guests at previous events.

It showcases a programme of boxing involving 'white collar' fighters that have undergone a 12-week training programme by Mark Diemer, of Hard Nox Gym, and culminates in three WKA Boxing Southern Area title fights.

Both the female and male WKA Boxing Super Lightweight titles are being contested, as Bedford's Bernie Webb fights Lauren Fields from Chatham while Remel Ramsarran, also from Bedford, fights the much-fancied Mikie Webber-Kane from Great Yarmouth.

The evening finishes with Zak Priest making a defence of his WKA Boxing Cruiserweight title in a rematch against Nick Morrish from Berkhamstead.

On the undercard are a number of East Area Boxers, trained by Sid Thompson, including Darnell Hornsby, Mick Ianiri, George Bastin, Leon Honour, Mark Eldridge, Jan Kawka, Jason Platt, Alan Darlow, Jack McGrath and Matt Wodecki.

"It's going to be a great evening," said Chandhar, "Sugar Ray will be here; meeting, greeting, answering questions, he's a great motivational speaker. I'm really looking forward to hearing what he's got to say."

"We've got some really good, competitive, boxing lined up too - these guys have been working really hard at Gold's Gym."

Of the significance of her upcoming fight, Webb is unconcerned. "I'm just looking at this as another fight," she said, "It's nothing special, it's the way I've got to go about it. In the grand scheme of things, it's the first female title fight in Bedford, but I'm not concerning myself with the occasion. To me, it's just another fight I need to win."

Terras send Dunstable crashing out of cup

FOOTBALL

THERE was no luck for either Dunstable Town or Barton Rovers yesterday, who both fell to heavy defeats.

The Blues hosted Weymouth FC in the FA Trophy and fell to a 4-1 loss.

The visitors took the lead with 31 minutes on the clock, when Stewart Yetton turned the ball in following a goalmouth scramble.

The Terras doubled their lead before the interval, with Ben Thomson slotting home after a neat move, giving Dunstable a lot to do in the second half.

The Blues started well after the interval and were rewarded in the 50th minute when winger Adam Moussi headed home.

The Blues continued to press and had chances to tie the game, but Weymouth continued to look dangerous on the break and took advantage of space at the back when Thomson rounded Jack Smith to make it 3-1.

Yetton then made sure of Weymouth's place in the next round, scoring from a header to send Dunstable crashing out of the cup.

Barton were in action in the Evo Stik Southern League Division One Central at Kidlington and left empty handed, suffering a 3-1 loss. The hosts got off to the best possible start, scoring after just three minutes through a Lewis Coyle free kick.

Rod Orlando-Young then levelled the tie for the visitors with 18 gone, but Barton restored their lead before the break through Anacleto Odhiambo.

Tommy Castle then completed the scoring with a second half strike.

DEADLOCK BROKEN: Cameron McGeehan celebrates his winning goal

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsnmedia.co.uk

CAMERON McGeehan dedicated his winner against Accrington to today's Remembrance Day commemorations and all the men and women who gave their lives in the First World War.

The midfielder popped up in the 75th minute to loop in the only goal for Luton's first League Two win in three games. It took McGeehan's own tally to nine for the season, and afterwards he explained what it meant to him.

"I was very happy to score today because of Remembrance Day," he said, adding: "I think you saw from the celebrations that it meant a lot. I dedicate it to that and it was really nice to score on a day like this."

McGeehan had been one of three Luton players, along with Stephen O'Donnell and Josh McQuoid, that took part in an Act of Remembrance along with the Commonwealth War Graves Commission at Luton General Cemetery on Thursday.

Yesterday, a minute's silence was impeccably observed before kick-off and McGeehan said: "It's a special atmosphere before the game.

The whole ceremony before is special and I went to something on Thursday at a cemetery, put on by the club.

"We're grateful to all the men and women that gave their lives for everyone living now. On this day we remember them and it does give you more in the game, maybe."

"I think they said that there were about seven Luton players registered with the army at the time and they fell during the wars. They weren't buried at the cemetery we were at, they were buried where they fell but it was touching to hear because, by the grace of god, that could be us. It hits home and puts everything into perspective."

On his continuing knack of scoring from midfield, McGeehan, said: "I do work hard at it all the time, that's what I base my game on. I watch a lot of top players and try to emulate what some of the goalscoring midfielders of my time."

Hatters midfielder Jordan Cook was dismissed in the 83rd minute for a second bookable offence, which invited Stanley on and McGeehan said: "He got sent off, which made it tougher for us in the last bit of the second half but we dug in as a team, showed the spirit that we've got in the group and hung on."

Isaac's a force of nature

FOOTBALL

BY JAMES CUNLIFFE
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

LUTON TOWN 1
ACCRINGTON STANLEY 0

"THEY'RE game-changers not substitutes" is one of Luton manager Nathan Jones' favourite mantras and Isaac Vassell proved a case in point against Accrington – and he didn't even score the winner.

Cameron McGeehan struck the killer blow with his ninth of the season but the striker came off the bench in the 66th minute and turned what was a turgid tussle.

He nearly came close to netting his first for the Hatters at the death, but it just wasn't to be.

"This is a big club to come into and he's now finding his feet," Jones said of Vassell, adding: "When he gets going and when he really hits the ground running we could have an animal on our hands."

Despite all his energy and intent, the result still rested on a late Christian Walton save after a cross cannoned off McGeehan's face, but it should never have got to that squeaky-bum stage, once the Hatters had got their noses in front. Yet Jordan Cook got himself sent off late on for two stupid bookable offences in six minutes – the second red card in two games for Luton – to set up a nail-biting finale that Stanley had scarcely threatened when it was 11-a-side.

But the hosts – who were the better side throughout, even if that's all relative after a dreary first 40 minutes – saw it out for a first League Two win in three games and consecutive clean sheets in the division for the first time this term. "I've been waiting for him to make an impact like that, because he's got it," said right back James Justin of Vassell, adding: "He's so fast and powerful and he's learning other aspects of the game, which is making him better."

Jack Marriott was who the former Truro City ace replaced, but last term's top scorer began the game as the only change from Town's last League Two game.

As summaries for entire first halves of football go, there could be none better than the moment Scott Cuthbert conceded a throw-in without an Accrington player within 20 yards of him, deep into a desperately dull first act.

That's not to say there were no moments to raise the pulse, it's just that both of them came within seconds of each other six minutes before the break.

Glen Rea and the McGeehan must have each thought they'd scored, but Stanley stopper Elliot Parish pawed the first away instinctively before an even more stunning save, stopping the Luton goalscorer's effort on the line, having already committed himself.

Aside from that, McGeehan hit the stanchion behind the goal for a split-second of celebrations before the disappointing realisation it was a miss.

The visitors offered nothing in an attacking sense, so you could say that the Hatters had the better of it, but the moans and groans from the terraces that perforated the period told you everything you needed to know about 45 minutes almost entirely devoid of excitement and littered with frustration.

That seeped into the second half until Vassell was called up. The striker immediately won a free-kick and Alan Sheehan licked it off the under side of the crossbar but it bounced in front of the goal-line and the new introduction was beaten to Danny Hylton's rebound header by Parish.

It looked like the ball would never go in when the keeper pulled off an unbelievable point blank save to deny Cuthbert his first ever Luton goal, but seconds later the deadlock was broken. Justin skidded a cross through a congested penalty area where, eventually, McGeehan forced it, looping and deflecting, into the top corner.

That was the result sewn up until Cook's emotions boiled over. He'd already seen red for an off-the-pitch shove and the adrenaline must have still been flowing when he lunged late into a challenge on Matty Pearson.

After his long trudge to the tunnel, head bowed, Stanley smelled blood. Walton tipped over Rommy Boco's header, which was fairly routine for the lofty goalie, but his second spared McGeehan's blushes in injury time as he clawed off the line.

Vassell then got close, but still so far, to his first Hatters goal when he blocked a Parish clearance and saw it ricochet goalwards. It didn't carry, but with cameos like this the forward can't be far off breaking his duck.
